Sponsorship Opportunities

2022 TDL Interoperability Summit

On the 14 November 2022, the International Data Link Society Australia/New Zealand Chapter will again host the annual Australian TDL Interoperability Summit! The major Summit sponsor is the Department of Defence and there are several sponsorship packages available to promote your company's products or services.

Over the five years prior to the COVID 19 restrictions, the TDL Interoperability Summit delegate numbers grew from 100 in 2014 to 205 in 2018, which was followed by an amazing 2019 Summit where 238 delegates attended. The Chapter believes that the number of delegates at the 2022 Summit will be commensurate with previous Summits. Delegates comprise both Government and industry representatives and include key influencers in the Australian and New Zealand TDL community.

AIM

The aim of the TDL Interoperability Summit is to inform TDL stakeholders and the wider Defence and defence industry community of current and future TDL issues facing the Australian Defence Force (ADF). The focus of the TDL Interoperability Summit is to bring Defence and defence industry together to discuss and develop an understanding of the issues and project activities impacting on the TDL Community.

Content

This one-day Summit aims to provide an overview on the following topics:

1. TDL Implementation and Support Issues
2. Integration of the various TDLs
3. Monitoring and management of TDL
4. Recent joint and combined TDL operations; and
5. Pacific Rim TDL initiatives and programs.

Summit Program

Pending confirmation, the 2022 TDL Summit will include:

1. A Keynote address by a senior ADF representative.
2. Defence presentations.
3. Industry presentations.
4. Several networking opportunities.
